Excerpt: . . . statute provides in a general way as follows: The Board of Local Improvements shall adopt a resolution for the work, secure an estimate of the cost and give notice of a public hearing at which property owners are given a right to be heard. The Board of Local Improvements then adopt a resolution abandoning, changing or adhering to the proposed improvement as it deems best, and secures a new estimate and recommends to the Council an ordinance for the proposed work. After the ordinance is adopted, petition is filed in court for the confirmation of the assessments. After assessments are confirmed, the Board awards a contract for the construction, and when the work is finished, makes report to the court and hearing is had to determine whether the work has been constructed as ordered. After the court finds that the work is so constructed, the...
