Excerpt from Old Houses in Farmington: An Historical Address Delivered at the Annual Meeting of the Village Library Company of Farmington, Conn;, May 1, 1895 I have been requested to speak this evening of the old houses of Farmington and of some of the people who lived in them. If my paper be not very profound with great events and much learning, it may perhaps none the less, for a passing hour, revive the fast-fading picture of our ancestors, their virtues and their foibles. In the winter of 1639, when the town of Hartford had been founded three and one-half years, and Windsor and Wethersfield about the same time, all three towns began to think their broad acres too limited, and applied to the General Court for some enlargement of accommodation. A committee was appointed to View the valley of the Tunxis and report on the 20th of February, but Windsor was busy building a bridge and a meeting house, and their neighbors of Wethersfield objected to the wintry weather; so the Court added to the committee Capt. John Mason, who had recently rid the colony of 600 or 700 Pequots, and who brought the Court on the 1st of June following to order the Particular Court to conclude the conditions for the planting of Tunxis.
